Not a template. A bespoke web presence.

Before the numbers, it helps to see the shape of what was built. This isn't a five-page brochure on a bought theme — it's a large, hand-coded site in two languages, engineered to match the calibre of the names on your client wall.

A The visible craft

A custom "Gulf-modernist" design language — colour, typography, motion and layout built from scratch for IMPACT HCC. Eleven advisory service pages, six thought-leadership articles, and a home, about, clients, partners and contact experience, each individually composed.

B The invisible engineering

The parts nobody sees but everybody feels: full English↔Arabic with right-to-left layout, search-engine structured data, accessibility, security headers, image and caching performance, and a deployment set up to be fast and near-free to host.

WHY THIS DOCUMENT EXISTS

"So you can see exactly what the fee pays for — line by line — and why a site of this depth, in two languages, is priced the way it is."

Where the fee goes.

#	SCOPE OF WORK	USD	≈ AED
01	Discovery & custom design system The Gulf-modernist visual language — colour tokens, typography, buttons, components and motion, built from a blank page.	$850	3,120
02	Core site — 10 pages Home, About, Services index, Clients, Partners, Insights index, Contact (live map), Privacy, Terms & a custom 404.	$1,000	3,670
03	11 advisory service pages Each service — assessment, compliance, recruitment, wellbeing, training and more — designed and built as its own page.	$700	2,570
04	6 Insights articles A reusable editorial template plus six populated thought-leadership pieces that position IMPACT HCC as a voice, not a brochure.	$400	1,470
05	Bilingual English ⇄ Arabic engine Full right-to-left layout, a hand-built translation dictionary across every page, and language signals for search engines.	$600	2,205
06	SEO, structured data & performance Google structured data (JSON-LD), social previews, sitemap, image optimisation and long-life caching so it ranks and loads fast.	$350	1,285
07	Accessibility & responsive engineering Keyboard/screen-reader support, focus states, reduced-motion, mobile navigation and testing across phones, tablets and desktop.	$250	920
08	Asset preparation 47 client & partner logos individually sourced, cleaned and normalised; hero and section photography selected and optimised.	$200	735
09	Deployment, security & handover Go-live on Netlify/Vercel, security headers, clean URLs, and written documentation so the site is yours to run and extend.	$150	550

Total development fee

$4,500 ≈ AED 16,500

One-time fee for the complete, delivered website. AED shown at the pegged rate (USD 1 ≈ AED 3.6725) for reference — invoiced in USD. Hosting & domain billed at cost (typically USD 0–20 / month).

Five reasons the number is fair.

1 It's custom — every line written by hand.

No WordPress theme, no drag-and-drop builder. All ~7,700 lines of styling were written specifically for IMPACT HCC. That means it's faster, more secure, impossible to mistake for a template ten thousand other firms use — and entirely yours.

2 It's bilingual — and Arabic runs right-to-left.

This isn't a translate button. Every layout mirrors, every line of copy is carried in a dictionary, and Google is told which language serves which region. It roughly doubles the testing. Agencies usually add 40–60% for a second language; here it's folded in.

3 It's a large site, not a five-pager.

Twenty-four pages — including eleven service pages and six articles built individually, not copy-pasted. More surface means more design, more content shaping, and more to keep consistent in both languages.

4 The invisible engineering is the expensive part.

Structured data, accessibility, performance and security are what make a site rank on Google, load instantly, work on every phone and stay safe. You never see them directly — but they decide whether the site actually performs.

5 You own it outright — no lock-in.

No monthly platform fee, no theme licence, no vendor holding your site hostage. You keep the code, and hosting for a site like this is close to free.

A DUBAI AGENCY WOULD QUOTE

AED 60k – 150k

Same scope, same bilingual build — plus account managers, overhead and margin layered on top.
